April is a great time to be in East Tennessee!

Just when pink and white blossoms announce spring's arrival, the Dogwood Arts Festival returns to East Tennessee celebrating the natural and cultural beauty of our area. In its' 49th year, the Festival is partnering with Knoxville's fine cultural institutions to showcase the region's best performing and visual artists in a "blue jean to black tie" festival that has something for everyone! An exciting mix of fine art, dance, theater, crafts, historic tours and Americana music at its' best offer stimulating experiences at our finest venues.

The Board, staff, committee chairs and hundreds of volunteers have planned a Festival that you will truly enjoy. We want to see the Dogwood Arts Festival grow as a regional event and help establish our area as an art destination. Please invite your family and friends to join you for our springtime celebration of the arts in East Tennessee.

OUR MISSION:

To help fund arts education in our schools, promote the visual and performing arts and to preserve and enhance the beauty of our region

SUPPORT THE FESTIVAL

As presenting sponsor of the Dogwood Arts Festival, ORNL Federal Credit Union's commitment to arts and the community is clear. That support ranges from a strong financial backing of the festival to the dedication and enthusiasm shown by its employee volunteers.

According to ORNL Federal Credit Union President John McKittrick, it's a natural partnership.

He explains, "Dogwood showcases not only the natural beauty of East Tennessee but also our growing arts community and our local quality of life,"

"It may be a visual thing from a local garden, a great painting, print, sculpture or even a unique craft item," he continues. "Or it may be enjoying a performance by a local vocalist or band.

Either way, Dogwood is where it all comes together in East Tennessee. ORNL Federal Credit Union is proud to play a small part in it all."

Every masterpiece starts out as an artistic vision. If you're interested in the creative process, the journey by which that vision evolves into reality, you'll enjoy Dogwood Arts Festival's studio art tours.

LIMITED EDITION

2009 Dogwood Arts Print

For the first time in the history of the Festival, the Limited Edition Fine Art Print is a dynamic, interpretive fine art photograph. "Woodruff's on Gay Street: Knoxville, TN" taken by local photographer, Phil Savage, is a panorama of the old historic Woodruff's building on Gay Street. Approximately 15 different shots from a wide angle lens were "sewn" and merged. The resultant distortion creates a heroic image making reference to the history and the "Renaissance" of downtown Knoxville. The photograph is copyrighted by the Dogwood Arts Festival, reproduced, numbered and signed by the artist.

Phil was born in Mexico City, Mexico, growing up in South America, and traveling around the world before he was brought to East Tennessee by native Knoxville, and fellow "Hall of Famer", Ginger Temple Baxter to help her coach gymnastics. Phil settled into Knoxville where he met his wife Lisa. The Savages have been teaching and coaching children in gymnastics at Premier Athletics since 1980. Phil's quiet, life-long passion with photography, influenced at an early age by his creative parents, led to his acceptance into the elite photography department at Southern Illinois University where he received his B.A. in Fine Art Photography in 1980.

Print is available for $75 at:

Illustrated talk by Tom Otterness

Internationally-renowned sculptor Tom Otterness presents highlights of three decades of work in the public arena. Otterness's cartoonish and sometimes subversive creations--fish wearing top hats, alligators eating passersby, insects in high heels, crying giants--enliven public spaces around the world and delight millions. ### Dogwood Arts Student Art Show

Pablo Picasso once said, "Every child is an artist. The problem is how to remain an artist once we grow up." If this true, artists and art-appreciators of all ages will have something to learn from the Student Art Show. The exhibition features the work of gifted artists from local elementary, middle and high school students on display at the Knoxville Convention Center and First Tennessee Bank locations. Awards will be presented to the best-of-the-best to encourage further development of these students' artistic aptitude.

When it comes to creativity, First Tennessee understands that there are no age limits. "First Tennessee recognizes that providing the opportunity to experience visual and performing arts enriches lives and builds a stronger community," explains Pam Fansler, president of First Tennessee-Knoxville. "That's why we're proud to sponsor the Dogwood Arts Festival 2009 Student Art show, an event that highlights the work of gifted art teachers from area elementary, middle and high schools. Art teachers nominate students for their skill, talent and dedication." The selected art features both traditional and non-traditional work and will be exhibited at the Knoxville Convention Center from April 23-30 and at select First Tennessee Financial Centers from May 4-18.

HISTORY OF STREET PAINTING:

Thought to have originated in Italy in the 16th century, street painting is a growing event at many community festivals. Originally, the artwork was of a religious nature, therefore the artists were called, "Madonnari". Vagabond artists would travel throughout Italy between festivals living solely on the coins tossed onto or next to their drawings as homage to the Madonna or possibly to their abilities.

For centuries the Madannari were true folk artists, but suffered a decline after World War II.

RHYTHM 'N BLOOMS

Rhythm 'N Blooms

East Tennessee's musical history is as rich as it is varied. Dogwood Arts Festival celebrates this heritage with Rhythm 'N Blooms, musical performances by locally-revered and nationally-renowned artists whose work falls under the broad banner of "Americana" music – a genre that spans country, blues, jazz, rock, bluegrass, and folk and is generally characterized by a strong sense of musical tradition even as it may expand beyond traditional musical boundaries. Rhythm N Blooms is produced in partnership with Knoxville Americana Music Foundation, AC Entertainment and WDVX radio.

North Mississippi All Stars

In 1996, brothers Luther (guitar, mandolin, vocals) and Cody Dickinson (drums, sampling) formed the North Mississippi Allstars with bassist Chris Chew. Originally from Fayette County, Tennessee, the brothers and their family moved to northern Mississippi, where the boys soaked up the region's country-blues sound. That sound became the chief inspiration for the Allstars, but the group mixes in a rock edge, an alternative aesthetic, and a trad-rock jam-band sensibility.

A Very Special Arts

This very special one-day event brings together over 400 children with mental or physical challenges in celebration of the arts, including music and movement, drama, and visual arts with both performance and hands-on activities. A special thanks to Rocky Top Markets for providing a float for these special artists in the Dogwood Arts Parade on April 24.

BAZILLION BLOOMS

Dogwood Arts Tree-Planting Program To Restore Dogwood Tree Population

Dogwood Arts Festival has initiated ambitious plans for a community-wide tree-planting program to produce a "bazillion" dogwood blooms in the next three years. The "Bazillion Blooms" campaign is a major effort to plant disease-resistant, April-blooming dogwood trees in Knox and surrounding counties.

Individuals can purchase one of a bazillion blooms that we need to bring back East Tennessee's much-loved dogwood. The dogwood tree is vital to East Tennessee's economy, environmental health and heritage. It is a source of community pride and tradition. The goal of Bazillion Blooms is to restore dogwoods to their former vitality in Knox and surrounding counties.

Over the years, local dogwood tree populations have dwindled due to disease, construction and development, and neglect. The Dogwood Arts' Bazillion Blooms aims to reverse that trend through a multifaceted effort that will involve raising community awareness of care and protection of dogwoods, supporting neighborhoods and individuals who plant trees and spearheading large-scale tree plantings.

Donations of $5 per bloom and $100 per tree are being accepted at www.dogwoodarts.com to raise fund to purchase dogwood trees.

Bazillion Blooms is a collaborative effort between many organizations and volunteers. The Dogwood Arts Festival is working in partnership with the City of Knoxville, Knox County, UT Agricultural Department, state and local government agencies, local businesses and community organizations.

Dogwood tree sales in partnership with local retailers and garden centers will be announced later in the year as part of the Bazillion Blooms fall planting program. Dec. 5 is the official Bazillion Blooms dogwood-tree-planting day for 2009.

For more information about the effort or how to get involved, contact the Dogwood Arts office at 865-637-4561.

Smart Investment.

We are excited to be entering our 6th year as presenting sponsor of the Dogwood Arts Festival. The festival plays a great role in preserving our area's beauty; both it's natural beauty and the local arts -- an investment we can all take pride in.

Thank you, East Tennessee, for helping to make the Dogwood Arts Festival one of the top events in our area. And thanks to the thousands who have chosen ORNL Federal Credit Union as their trusted financial partner and service provider.
